List of Feelings Leaves

(For Theodore Roosevelt and many others, a national park is a place of peace, healing, and inspiration. Notice the veins on the leaf drawing below. On each vein, write one word to describe how time spent in nature makes you feel.)

Postcard to a Park Ranger

(In the space below, draw a special place in nature that you have visited, or that you would like to visit someday. Cut along the dotted line and display your postcard somewhere special!)
